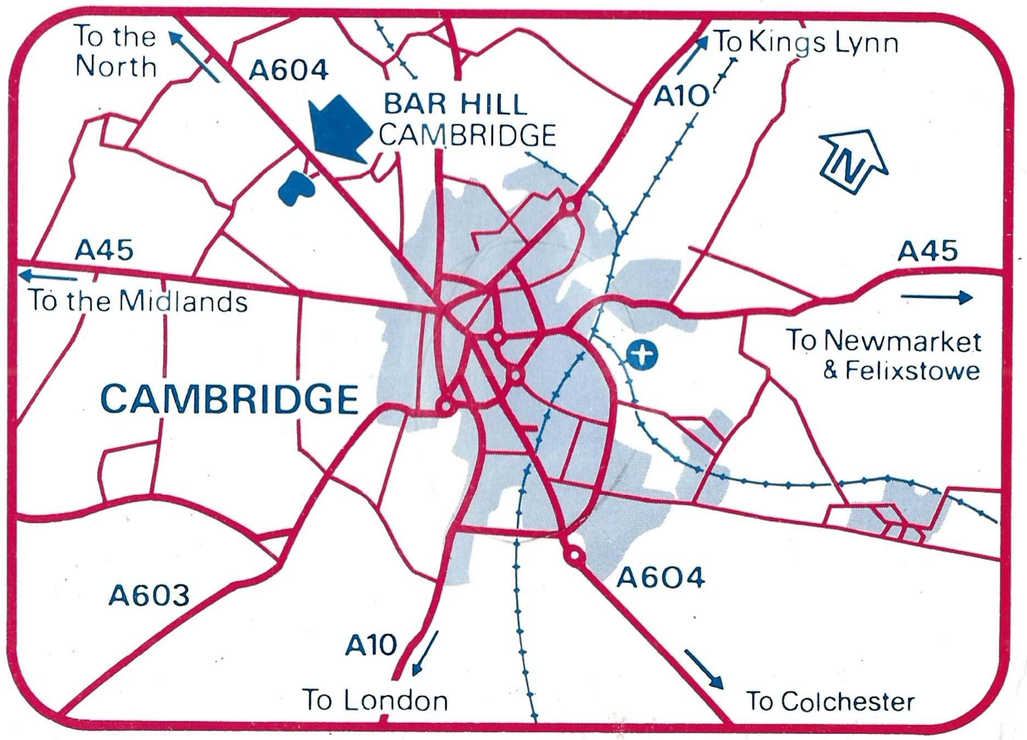
A DEVELOPMENT BY TRAFALGAR HOUSE



The Bar Hill concept

Bar Hill, Cambridge is probably unique.
A new private enterprise development by the Trafalgar House Group, it incorporates extensive residential areas, an hotel, a golf course, a shopping centre, an office complex and a thriving industrial and warehousing estate.

Designed for growth

Set in attractive Cambridgeshire countryside, in East Anglia's most prosperous quarter, Bar Hill is a self-sufficient community on the edge of Cambridge. It is part of a larger area supporting 250,000 people where labour is comparatively inexpensive and where the diverse industries already established in Cambridge have attracted a wide variety of skilled and semi-skilled personnel.

Highly skilled technicians

Arising from its close proximity to the Universities, Bar Hill is able to offer an unparalleled standard of high technologically trained and qualified personnel engaged in a very diverse range of science based industrial and research work. The many existing establishments of this nature already located within the Bar Hill complex bear witness to the town's proven location and its ability to attract many of the world's most highly skilled technicians.
